In a day when teen-age boys and girls are blamed for bad manners, wild behavior, and a general lack of interest in the finer things of life, we wish to take exception to such attitudes. We therefore dedicate this issue of the Reflector to the true teen-age spirit. We shall show the teen-age world as our students live it. It is really a world of hard work, high ambition, spiritual awareness, and good fellowship. The modern high school youngster leads a full and exciting life, complete with sports, good books, exhilarating play, and marvelous opportunities for learning.

The Senior Class of 1958 has been a class of many firsts in the records of F. H. S. Beginning their freshmen year with 80 students, there have been four new arrivals and twenty departures from the class; thus 64 remain for graduation.

As freshmen they were shy students, idolizing seniors. As sophomores the class elected Jackie Stephey as president, re-electing her in the junior and senior years. An outstanding innovation by this class was the "fun night", now so popular in the school. A very successful magazine campaign was conducted during their junior year, followed by an outstanding prom. Students from this class were charter members in many new school clubs.

Jim McCann has been the only five-letter man in the history of the school.

With talented members performing, the class presented outstanding assembly programs and two fine plays —"Grandma Goes to Town" in their junior year and "Time Out for Ginger" in their senior year.

Senior Officers

Richard Nau, vice-president; Jackie Stephey, president; Ray Homola, secretary.

Robert Adams — Ferndale

In hunting season dark or sunny
Beware, oh deer! Beware, poor bunny!
Bob goes out with his trusty gun,
And all wild life is on the run.

Patricia Ashcom — Ferndale

Darning a sock or sewing a seam
With needle and thread, she's on the beam.
Life's lots of fun for this fair lass,
As she plans to enter a nursing class.

Norma Basset — Middle Taylor

Norma is this beauty's name.
In nursing she will seek her fame.
As color guard and sometimes queen,
She always made an attractive teen.

Stephanie Beale — Ferndale

Stephanie is a winsome lass;
Fun to be with, in every class.
She likes to talk, and does it well
From early morn 'til the last bell.

Charles Block — Ferndale

A running brook and a rod to fish
Fulfills for Chuck his every wish.
As soon as he has cast his line,
He loses all track of time.

David Bodnar — Ferndale

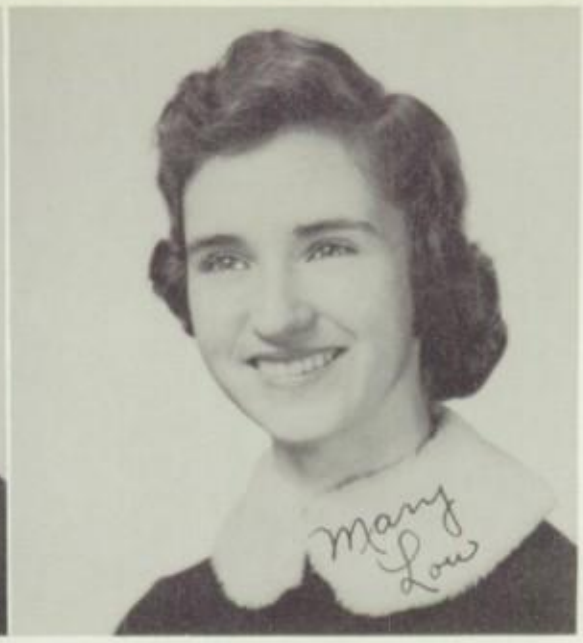
Jokes, subtle or outrageous,
Bring Bo's laugh contagious.
He has brightened many days
With his easy and care-free ways.

Nancy Jane Brosius — Ferndale

With shining black hair, and flashing blue eyes,
Nan was a majorette whom the boys idolized.
In our senior play, she trained with pride
For her future role as an early bride.

Gerald Bush — Middle Taylor

To carry on our town's tradition
Is known to be this boy's ambition.
To pay for all his future bills
He plans to work in the Johnstown mills.



Elsa Calderwood Ferndale

She sings and cheers and wants to teach.
By mass accord, she is a peach.
She's led us in so many ways,
Our class gives her a vote of praise.

Mary Lou Cernak Middle Taylor

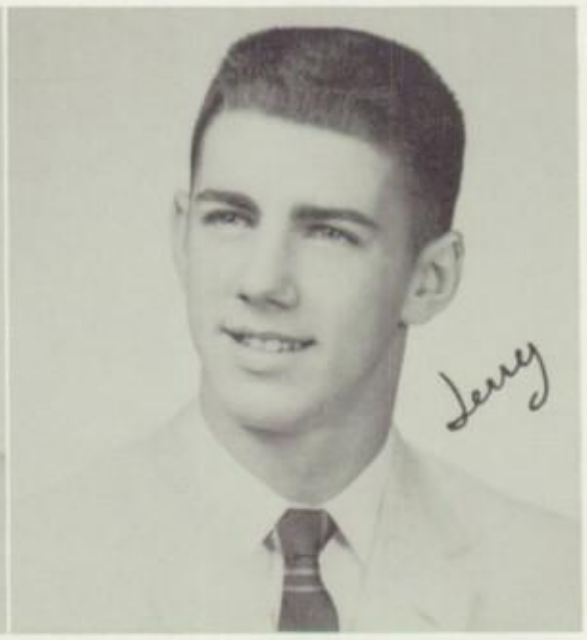
Among many pretty Cernak girls,
Is Mary Lou with her natural curls.
She plans to follow without fear,
The job of secretary as her career.

Barbara Chumrik Brownstown

Full of laughter and out for fun,
A rightful place in her gang she's won.
She plans to work as a practical nurse,
To keep many patients from growing worse.

Ronald Clawson Ferndale

Fast on the court and a .300 hitter,
Ron, though small, is never a quitter.
The field of engineering is his line,
With slide rule and T-square, he will shine.



Robert Cousins Ferndale

Hockey is Bob's favorite sport.
With blades and stick and things of that sort
He follows the Jets, and dreams some day
That he might make his mark that way.

Gerald Cuppett Ferndale

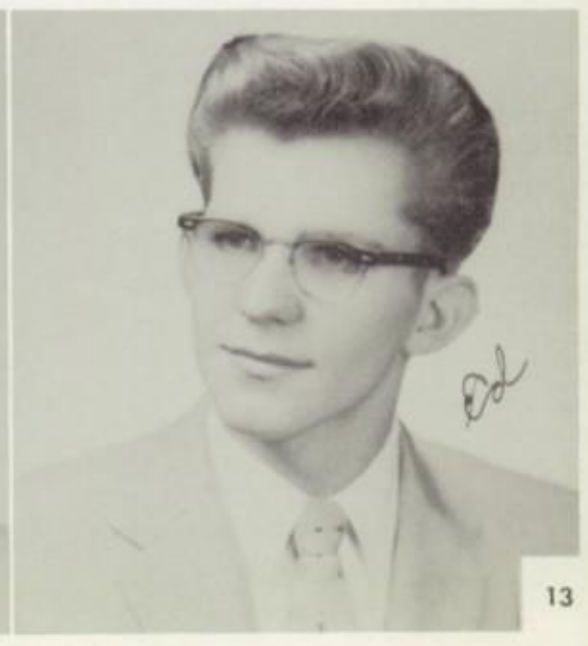
Jerry Cuppett's tall and dark.
In high school he has made his mark.
On football field or basketball court
He's an athlete of the finest sort.

Park Custer Ferndale

Park Custer is a Navy man
With wavy hair and cheeks of tan.
He has no girl in every port,
For local girls he likes to court.

Edward Czyrnik Middle Taylor

A quiet lad who loves to sleep,
Fond memories of shop he'll keep.
In summer as a Junior Leaguer
He bats and catches with great vigor.

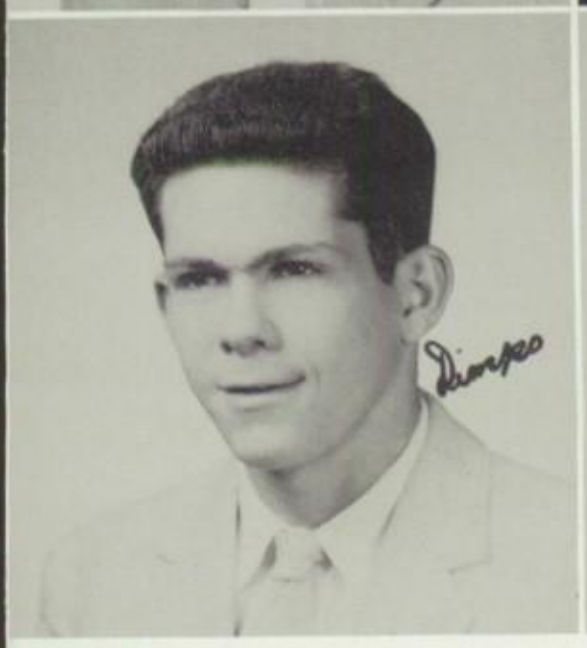


Joe Daum — Brownstown

This lad calls Brownstown home,
But he can't be reached by phone.
For he is out, to make a sum
Fixing engines, making them hum.

Judith Debevc — Lorain

With pretty eyes and happy smile,
A friendly girl with lots of style.
As secretary or future WAF
Judy'll be tops on any staff.



Fred Dimpfl — Ferndale

As an army officer in charge of tanks,
Dimps hopes to be leading the ranks.
Already for service beginning to train,
Success for him shines out quite plain.

Judith Drum — Ferndale

Dark brown hair and flashing brown eyes,
A pleasant smile, petite in size.
In those distant days to come,
Let's hope our nurse is Judy Drum.

Teresa Dugan — Ferndale

Also a winsome woman in white,
Wooing patients left and right.
The hospitals would be far worse
If they didn't have this gentle nurse.

David Entler — Ferndale

For the woodcraft he makes
There is always a clamor.
Dave has what it takes
With a saw and a hammer.

Arlene Fingerhoot — Middle Taylor

This quiet girl hails from Benshoff hill
And skating is her special skill.
She likes to cook and iron and clean;
To be a housewife is her dream.

Raymond Friedman — Brownstown

On any nice, hot, summer day
At Sunnehanna, you'll surely find Ray.
Not swinging the clubs, as you'd suppose,
But chasing the ball for the golfing pros.

HERSHEY'S
EGGS

John Gander — Ferndale

Whether it's football, baseball, or basketball
You'll surely find Goose a star in them all.
Small, good-looking, and extremely neat
Any math problem he can always defeat.

Lois Garshnick — Ferndale

With pleasant smile and gracious ways
She's added cheer to our school days.
She soon will make a home for Ron
With charm she'll grace it, thereupon.

Jacqueline Given — Ferndale

A pretty girl with long brown hair
Whose complexion is quite fair.
Jackie sings in our school chorus
In voice and looks she'll never bore us.

John Grimaldi — Brownstown

Tall and dark and quite good-looking;
Sly and humorous, he's kept things cooking.
As a navy man he'll sail the seas
While to the hearts of girls, he seeks the keys.

Irene Hochstein — Middle Taylor

Although Irene is a quiet one,
Time spent with her is lots of fun.
Her bashful smile and baby blue eyes
Will hold for men a pleasant surprise.

Raymond Homola — Lorain

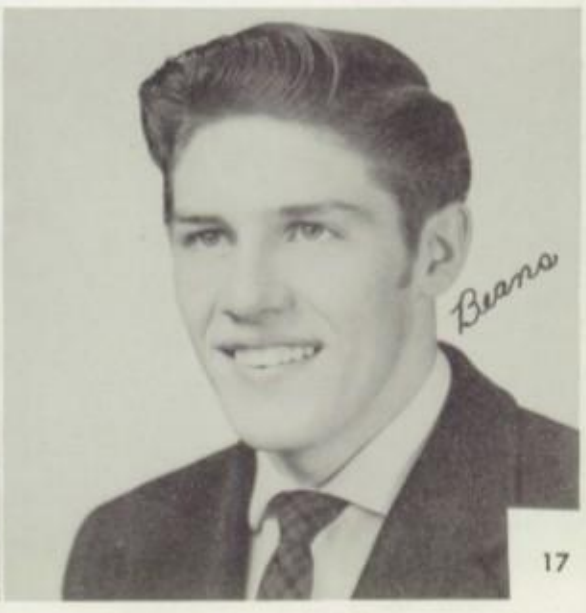
A crew-cut blonde who played half-back,
"Mole" was also out for track.
But, too bad, girls, his favorite honey
Is known to everyone as "Bunny".

Ruth Horvath — Brownstown

One place that Ruth will always stop
Is a busy, yummy pizza shop.
Hovie's the Seniors' only twin
With her pleasant way, lots of friends she'll win.

Fred Hines — Westmont

By all school subjects strictly bored,
But quite happy driving his Ford.
As a navy man he'll be a delight
For the girls to see in his blue and white.



Doris Hostetler — Ferndale

From captain of cheerleaders to nurse of the future
She'll be soothing a brow or clamping a suture.
Dee will always keep in step
For she is loaded with charm and pep.

Helen Karla — Ferndale

Being a secretary is her ambition,
Taking notes in fine tradition.
But if she tires of this hard life,
She'd be so happy as someone's wife.

Judith Kemeny — Ferndale

With an easel and brush and paints to daub,
Judie turns in a superior job.
For posters or stages or yearbook design,
In all such fields she'll do just fine.

Mary Ann Krupka — Middle Taylor

She loves to dance; she loves to skate;
As a secretary, with her boss she'll rate.
As colorguard she had lots of fun,
But she'll be glad when school is done.

Ronald Kuhs — Ferndale

Tall and dark and Ron's his name
And golf is his favorite game.
In passing, shooting, or dribbling the ball
Ku's the guy who's cheered by all.

Robert Kurtz — Lorain

From captain of the football team
To be a coach is his real dream.
Ambitious and efficient in certain ways,
He may be a tycoon in future days.

Kathy Laughlin — Ferndale

As secretary of the band
She kept the music well in hand.
By choosing teaching as her career,
Her goal for the future is quite clear.

Barbara Ling — Ferndale

Bonnie is this lass's name
She's led our Pep Club on to fame.
Infectious giggle, stylish, and cute
For choice of careers, she's hard to suit.

Bartlett Hills
GOLF COURSE

Dolores Lunko Middle Taylor

It would be the greatest folly
Not to give credit to our Dolly,
For what she's done for Ferndale High
In the four years just gone by.

James McCann Ferndale

Let's all give a rousing hand
For our first five letter man.
And he was tops in many things
Like Student Council and "Dog Patch"
King.

Janet McDowell Middle Taylor

Pretty Jan, we expect to see
As secretary on her boss' knee.
But she says "no," she prefers no other
Than to be the perfect wife and mother.

Evelyn McGuirk Brownstown

Curly blond hair and eyes of green,
As a nurse in white she'll soon be seen.
Always trying to do her best
To keep our school above the rest.

Shirley Mack Ferndale

As a kindergarten teacher she'll be at ease,
While teaching the kids their A B C's.
She's always ready and willingly gives
Her best to the place in which she lives.

Josephine Malisko Lorain

To train for her future vocation
Jo takes Mr. Allison's dictation.
So with such a career in mind,
A good job she'll surely find.

John Mejia Middle Taylor

Coal black hair and silent grin
Lots of friends he's sure to win.
Although not sure of future days,
We know he'll succeed in many ways.

Elsie Moore Brownstown

In days ahead at her beauty shop,
Our stylish women will surely stop.
Her earliest practices we have seen
As we recall when her hair was green.

Richard Mostoller — Lorain

Whether it's the drive-shaft or the smallest blinker,
With any car part, Moss will tinker.
A top-flight mechanic he'll surely be,
From clanks and rattles his motors are free.

Marian Mucha — Brownstown

Mutz is a happy Brownstown gal,
Who always wears a pleasing smile.
To be a practical nurse is her desire
And of this job she'll never tire.

Paul Muffley — Lorain

A touchdown maker is this lad,
For when he runs the fans go mad.
A career in sports seems just his line,
So coaching football suits him fine.

Robert Muffley — Lorain

This half of our class' brother act
Is known by everyone as "Fat".
Of quiet manner, he likes all sport,
But girls, it seems, he doesn't court.

Richard Nau — Lorain

Tall and good looking is this lad,
In the senior play he was quite a dad.
A real smooth talker, it's readily agreed
That Rich in life will surely succeed.

Raymond Rucosky — Ferndale

With crew cut hair and rounded face;
Of chunky build, yet full of grace.
On the diamond, he displays his skill;
For at short or moundsman, he fills the bill.

Karl Schlenter — Ferndale

From his post as gridiron center
To the engineer's career he'll enter,
Karl has been one hard to stop,
As he climbs toward the top.

Marlene Schmidt — Lorain

The cheerleader with the "mostest pep",
This brown haired miss is "mighty hep".
She sings, she acts, and "carries the ball",
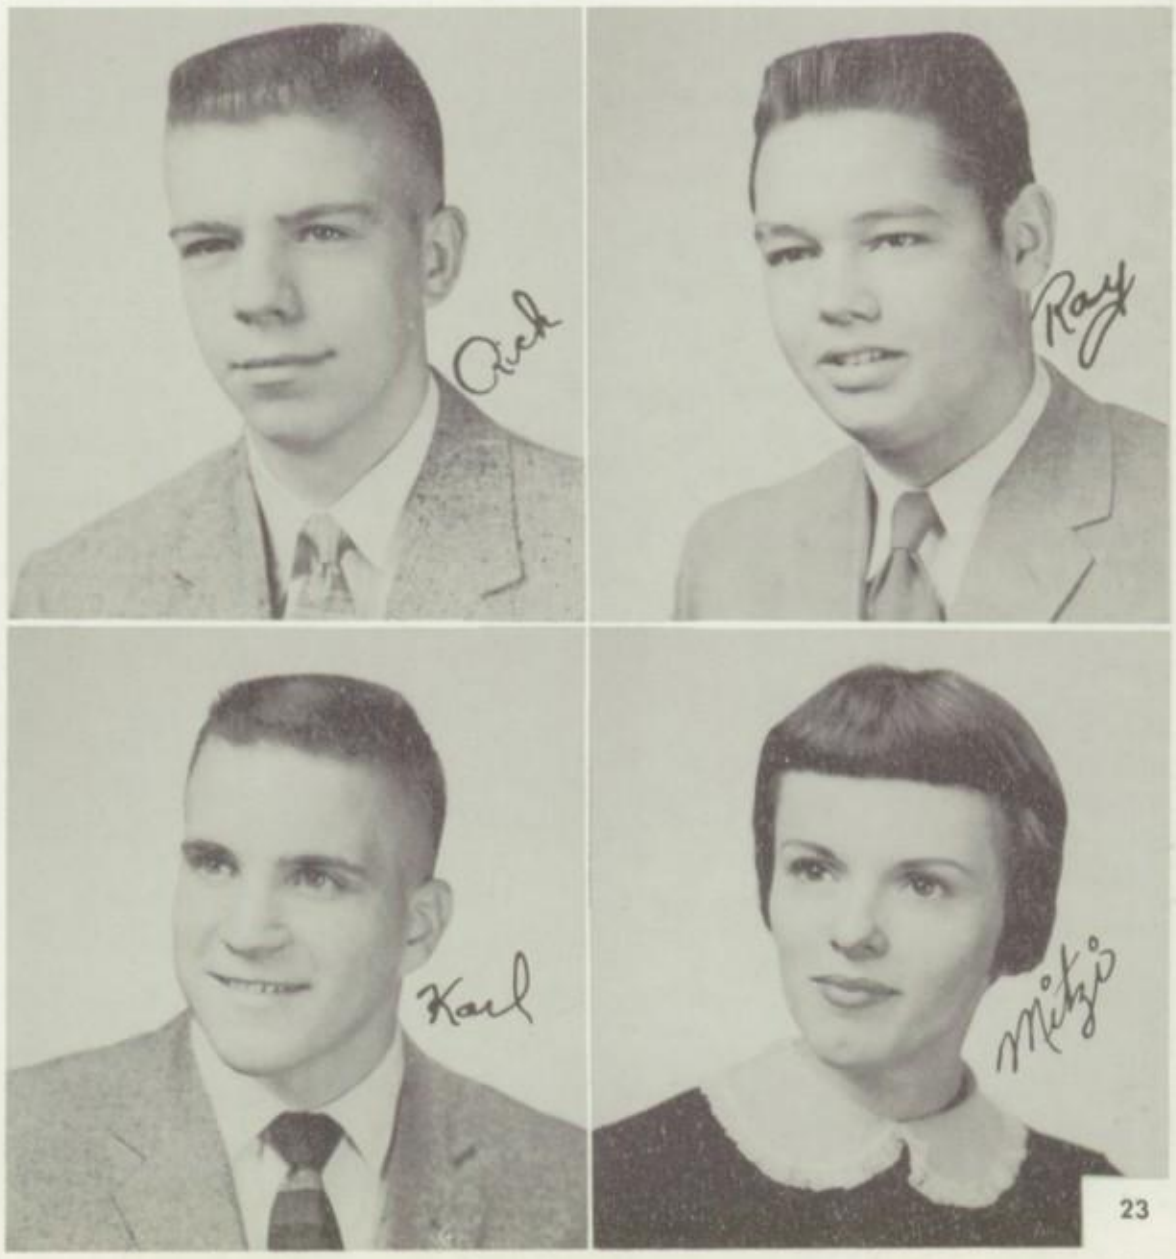
And soon she'll jump at her boss's call.

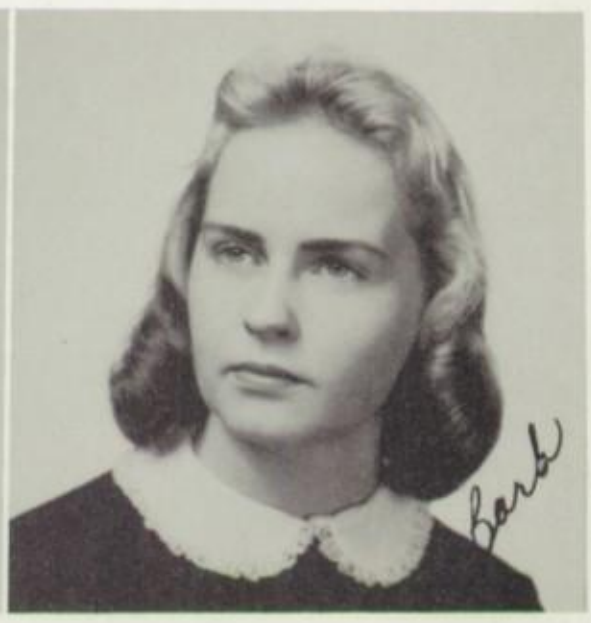


Gary Simmons — Middle Taylor

Garry Simmons is our choice
To succeed Elvis Presley's voice.
In Ferndale's chorus he warbles sweet,
To hear him sing is quite a treat.

Barbara Slavik — Brownstown

Barb could join the ranks of the pros
Who keep the sports public on their toes.
But she'll put herself upon the map
Once she dons that nurse's cap.



Jacquelyn Stephey — Lorain

This dark-haired girl is quite some dish,
In water she can swim like a fish.
The Ferndale band by her is led,
She's the perfect gal to teach "phys. ed".

Barbara Millar — Ferndale

With beautiful, blue, bewitching eyes
And a scarlet blush, she's quite a prize.
In a nursing class she'll do her best,
And we predict, she'll stand the test.

Robert Thomas — Middle Taylor

Although he's short, don't underrate him;
There are many girls, who'd like to date him.
To be a flyer, and wear the Air Force blue,
Is Bob's ambition; we hope it comes true.

Virginia Tomak — Middle Taylor

As a majorette Ginger was the best
But her future lies with pencil and desk.
To be a secretary is her one aim,
And with brains and beauty she'll make a name.

Jack Steiffer — Ferndale

Always found in a gasoline station
After school or on vacation.
He races cars just for the fun,
But his career hasn't yet begun.

Charlotte Szelazek — Lorain

Whether the weather is calm or windy
Nothing will ever hold back Cindy.
In Ferndale High she's stood the test,
And in our class she tops the rest.

Beginning their year's activities with a fairly successful magazine subscription campaign, the Junior Class contributed their share to the school's varied program. Led by their president, James Gindlesperger, the group produced a fine assembly, good scholars, a successful play, and many athletic stars.

Their long wait for the arrival of class rings was finally rewarded in late December. In January the Prom Committee was chosen and serious planning was begun for the big spring-time event. Other class officers were Vice-President Mike Povich and Secretary-Treasurer Mary Ann Gomulka.

Sophomore Officers
George Jones, secretary; Norman Gavazzoni, president; Bob Thomas, vice-president.

Under the leadership of their new president, Norm Gavazzoni, the Sophomore Class gradually took over their position as an important part in the school's program. Contributing their members as outstanding cheerleaders, musicians, and athletes, the class gave real promise for the future when they take over as school leaders.

Activities in which the under-classmen participate as a group have been somewhat limited, but individuals in the class have been active. Production of a February assembly program and a spring fun-night were highlights.

Organized with their officers for the first time, the freshmen eagerly sought to earn a place in our clubs and sports. With Terry Blue as their president, the ninth graders showed enthusiasm for junior high sports, band, cheering and clubs.

Many of the class worked diligently to achieve their place on the honor rolls, as they were introduced to Latin, algebra, civics and general science. A future career as a class of achievement seems likely for this group.

Dear Diary:

A year has passed since we entered Ferndale High as scared little kids. Now we know our way around. We have become accustomed to Mr. Lesneski and his geography assignments, and we read books "like mad" in Mrs. Blough's book club. And golly, what fun we have in Miss Spangler's history classes!

Of course, those regular trips to detention upset us now and then, but we make up for such things by being real jitterbugs at school dances and volunteering for sports and clubs open to us. You know, this school is beginning to be some fun, and we're just really beginning, man! Wait 'til next year—Wow!

Do you remember those snarled halls and bewildered faces of early September? That was just the early phase of being brand-new seventh graders, full of questions, excitement, and curiosity.

But gone forever is that shyness and fear! Now that a year has nearly passed, these kids are full-fledged participants in our assemblies, varsity and junior high sport's crowds, and eager learners at our dances. What a difference a year makes! These sixty beginners have found that fun, happiness, and interesting classes are a daily thing when you really "belong" as part of the "gang" at Ferndale.

Mr. Elmer Berkebile, High School Principal

Administration and Faculty

Sincere, soft-spoken, and friendly--these words characterize Mr. Berkebile, our respected high school principal. While a young man in years, he has demonstrated strength, understanding, and wisdom in the day to day operation of our school. Liked and admired by all who know him, he deserves the support of students and faculty in his important task.

Mr. S. Ray Grimm, Supervising Principal

A "dynamo of human activity" is a trite old phrase which seems to fit so well as a description for our astute, hard-working supervising principal, Mr. S. Ray Grimm. Working constantly for the betterment of our entire school system, while protecting the interest of taxpaying citizens, Mr. Grimm has demonstrated rare ability as an administrator and organizer. His untiring efforts are paying dividends in improved education for our school system.

Reorganized following the elections of new members in November, the Joint Board of School Directors for our system is now led by Adam Koch, president; Colbert W. Varner, vice-president; Paul Doyle, treasurer; George W. W. Jones, secretary; and George Spence, solicitor.

The joint board, composed of five members from each district, meets once a month in the high school. Board committees include: Teachers, Building and Supplies, Budget, Activities, and the Executive Committee.

Student Council Officers
M. Povich, vice-president; J. McCann, president; G. Tomak, secretary-treasurer.

Under the guidance of Mr. Allison and the presidency of James McCann, the student council met at intervals throughout the year to discuss problems and to recommend solutions. The council has considered publication of another student handbook, encouraged the playing of music in the auditorium at noon, and worked toward a cleaner school and grounds.

The vice-president, Mike Povich was chosen by popular vote of the student body in the fall. He will automatically succeed to the presidency next year. Council has a constitution, regularly prescribed meetings, and delegates from every home room.

This new organization was established for two basic reasons. The first of these was to help the commercial students gain experience for their future jobs. The other was to provide a service for teachers who need secretarial help.

Mrs. Campbell was the advisor for the group, which adopted the name of "Busy Bees". The club motto was "Efficiency and service with a smile."

Qualifications to become a member were one year of shorthand and two years of typing. The club visited Cambria Rowe Business College.

Club officers for the year were: Helen Karla, president; Janet Mc Dowell, vice-president; Lois Garshnick, secretary; and Ginger Tomak, assistant secretary.

Secretaries Club

As a method of giving special recognition to those students who work with diligence and distinction upon school publications, the Quill and Scroll Society has been formed. In our school the honorary group is chosen from the junior and senior class members who have fulfilled the requirements by their work on the Courier or Reflector.

Courier

Editors
Seated: Mrs. Huber, Mrs. Christensen, N. Hockensmith, J. James. Standing: J. Gander, R. Nau, B. Gould, J. Stephey.

The Courier, our student newspaper, relates all interesting and newsworthy happenings at Ferndale High. Guided by the advisor, Mrs. Carolyn Huber, the paper is published monthly during the school term. This year the Courier featured art work and photographs for the first time. The paper is a member of the Pennsylvania School Press Association, and members of its staff are in the honorary Quill and Scroll society.

Edited by Richard Nau with the assistance of William Gould, the paper was produced by a good staff of feature writers and reporters. Mrs. Dorothy Christensen was in charge of business arrangements.

Devoting their energies and efforts toward producing a unique, different yearbook, the Reflector staff has worked diligently on this issue. As a central theme we have presented the idea of a teen-age world which is fine and clean and decent. The extra color on the early pages has been purchased by the daily work of the staff in servicing the candy machines.

With capable editors and devoted staffers, the group has co-operated faithfully through the long and tedious task. We are proud of our work, and aware of its shortcomings. We hope that this effort will provide hours of enjoyment and pleasant memories for our subscribers.

Led by capable officers, this group was again an outstanding one during the school term. Aiding the cheerleaders in maintaining enthusiasm at our games and bonfire, the club also purchased sweatshirts for its members and sold beanies and booster pins throughout the school. With Miss Dorothy Lance as advisor, the Pep Club again held an enjoyable banquet near school's end.

F Club Officers
R. Homola, secretary-treasurer; J. McCann, president; J. Cuppett, vice-president.

The F Club seeks to stimulate interest in all school sports, and to instill a sense of sportsmanship and fair play into its members. Composed of all athletes who have earned varsity letters, the club aims to teach leadership qualities for life.

Events of the year participated in by the group were: Thanksgiving Turkey Trot, Christmas food basket for a needy family, and candy salesmen and parking aides for the Ferndale Minstrel.

Girls Athletics Association

This group is open to all girls in grades nine through twelve who are willing to participate in all the after-school sports sponsored by the association. Competition in each sport entitles each girl to earn points which are applied toward the required number for membership.

The association seeks to stimulate physical exercise and competitive endeavor among the girls. This year volley-ball, ping-pong, and basketball were features of the program sponsored by Miss Dorothy Lance, club advisor.

Future Teachers Club

Future Teacher Officers

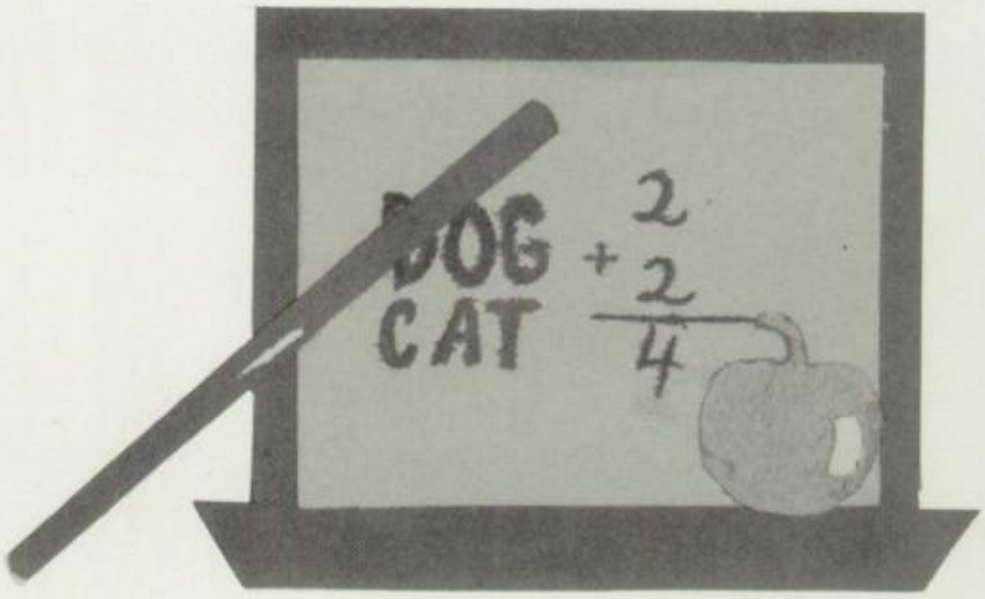
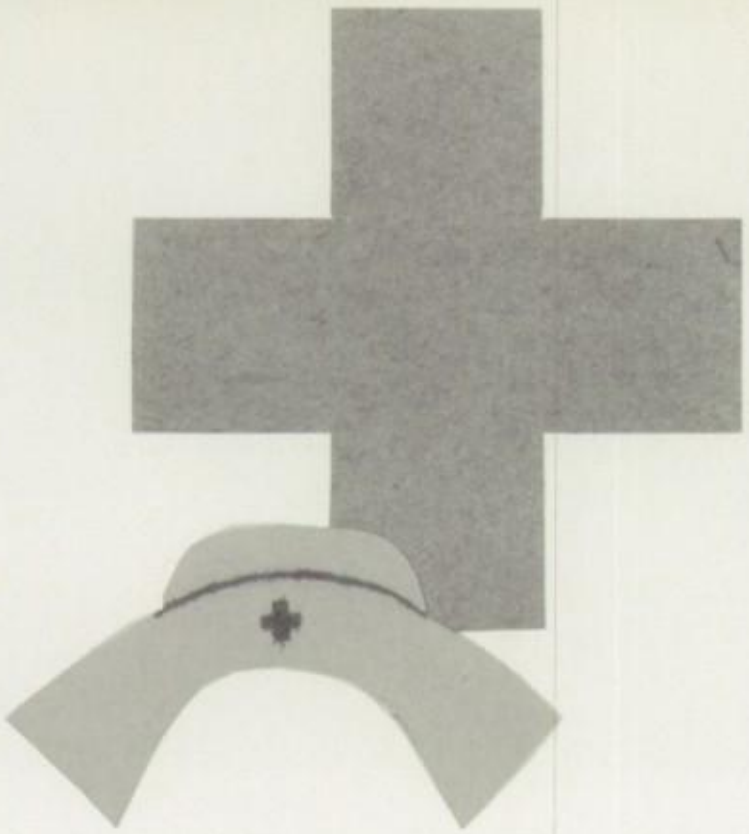
Our Future Teachers of America Club, sponsored by the National and State Education Associations, was in its second year since being organized at Ferndale. With twenty-five active and interested members the club carried out numerous activities which proved informative.

Highlights of the year's events were: opportunities to take over grade school classrooms when teachers were temporarily away; an educational assembly for American Education Week; observation of teachers and classes; and a spring trip to State Teacher's College, Indiana.

Under the leadership of Elsa Calderwood this co-educational group held lively discussions as they explored teaching as a future career. The club was open to all students without dues or qualifications, for it was informative in nature and intention.





This club is open to all junior and senior girls who are interested in any field of health. Once again, it flourished as an active, interesting group. At Christmas, they filled stockings and held a party for the children in Lee Hospital, and also collected clothing for a needy family. Educational tours were taken to Somerset State Hospital and other hospitals. One activity was helping to make bandages for Memorial Hospital. The third annual banquet was held in April. Mrs. Ruth Ling and Mr. Charles Allison are club advisors.

Sr. Y-Teens

This organization, a branch of the Y.W.C.A., had another successful year. It started the school year off with a good beginning by holding a much enjoyed "Sadie Hawkins" Day Dance. At Christmas time our school was put into the Yuletide spirit when the Y-Teens did the decorating.

Contributing stuffed animals to the Red Cross was another of their varied activities. Mrs. Campbell was advisor for the Senior Y-Teens, and Mrs. Nycum served in the same capacity for the Junior Y-Teens.

Talented

Our pretty, high-stepping beauties have been a real asset to our band, football half-time shows, and basketball entertainment. With five seniors, two sophomores, and a freshman among the group, the girls practiced hard to work out the different dance and twirling routines. Other activities where their excellent appearances were appreciated included the cheerleading contest, school pep meetings, the spring music concert, and our exchange assemblies.

Marching Band

Directed by Mr. William Williams and led by drum majorette Charlotte Szelazek, the Yellow Jacket Band performed with distinction at our football games. The addition of snappy white buck shoes to the regulation uniform improved the appearance of the outfit.

Appearing in the annual Halloween parade as black and gold yellow jackets, the band received applause and comments of appreciation. In addition to the notable service of the group during football season, members also helped with assemblies, the cheerleading contest, and the spring concert.

Choral Groups

Serving her first year as chorus director at Ferndale, Miss Mary Cagley had a big job.

Conducting the Thanksgiving assembly and a Christmas choral program kept her very busy. She worked with the senior mixed-chorus, junior mixed-chorus, and several smaller groups such as the girls' trio and the boys' quartet. The trio sang at intermission of the Senior Play and for our exchange assemblies.

In the spring came the annual forensic competition which required much work by the instructor and the senior chorus members. The choral groups also took part in the Spring Concert which was held in May.

Quartet: B. Allen, J. McCann, J. Steiffer, D. Cammerata.

Trio: M. Schmidt, E. Calderwood, S. Beale.

Librarians

Two groups of girls have served this year in varying capacities in the library. The seventh and eighth grade girls, with Mrs. Rodgers as their advisor, met every other Wednesday during Club group B's period. Besides learning the duties of a librarian, they helped with keeping the bulletin board up to date and attractive. They also made clever book markers for distribution with library books.

The other group of girls, grades nine to twelve, were volunteers who gave up a study period once a week to aid with desk work, shelving of books, or caring for magazines. The experience received by the girls, plus the help given to the librarian, made the activity well worthwhile.

Our school usherettes are chosen from volunteers among the senior girls to serve at numerous events held in our auditorium. Their primary concern is to promote the quick, quiet, and efficient entry and departure of the student body at assembly periods. Their firm insistence upon proper seating by rows, their courteous manner, and consistent performance help the administration and faculty to maintain a smoothly functioning school system.

"Time Out for Ginger" proved to be a hilarious hit as an excellent cast performed capably under the direction of Mr. Ned McGhee and his student assistants, Jackie Stephey and Evelyn McGuirk.

The action in the play centered upon the amusing antics of Ginger, the tom-boy daughter of a talkative, eccentric banker. When her father made a controversial speech at the local high school advocating the right of youngsters to do only what they wished, Ginger obliged by going out for football.

Despite violent opposition of many parties, Ginger insisted upon her decision, supported only by her father and the family maid, Lizzie. After many complicating moments, all turned out well when Ginger realized that being a girl was more fun than playing football.

Ferndale's team headed for its annual training week at Camp Blue Knob with eleven returning lettermen. With this favorable outlook, an outstanding season was expected, and outstanding it was. The record shows the least number of losses by a Ferndale grid team in recent years. With five wins, two losses, and one tie, including another sweet victory over our traditional rival, Westmont, this outcome was accomplished by an extremely light, but rough and tough team.

In the opener against Richland Township, who had an undefeated season, the Rams resorted to a high school rarity, a field goal, to defeat the jackets by 10-7. Our boys then broke into the win column with a 25-7 romp over United Joint.

Mr. Hyland, Head Coach; Mr. Rigby, Assistant Coach.

Managers: B. Cuppett, R. Berg, R. Black, P. Katzenstein.

Next came the surprise of the year. Fighting like wild animals, our gang held Conemaugh Township to a 0-0 deadlock in a game marked by its rugged line play. Next, in a game in which the Jackets ran wild in the second half, they defeated Catholic High, 22-0. Behind a devastating ground attack, the Jackets trampled a heavy Conemaugh team, 32-0. Then, following a two-week layoff caused by the flu, our gang routed Boswell, 54-7, running up the highest single game total for the year in this area. On November 9, on a cold and snowy field, the Jackets battled to a wonderful 13-2 victory over Westmont. In the last game, the hard-fought season took its toll and the Jackets bowed to Adams' inspired play, 24-6.

The players on our junior varsity team were sophomores and juniors who did not play varsity. The squad played a full schedule, except for games canceled because of the flu. Playing under Coach Dick Rigby the boys performed capably, compiling a fair record, and gaining valuable experience to prepare them for next year when they will fill vacancies left by departing senior regulars. A few of the boys also got limited experience by participating in the varsity games.

Mr. Hershberger, Jr. High Coach

The junior high team was developed under Coach Nyle Hershberger and his assistant, Mr. Charles Allison. Under such careful and friendly instruction, the boys worked hard on mastering the fundamentals of the sport. Improving continuously throughout their successful season, the squad produced prospects who will be assets for the junior varsity next year.

Again as in past years, our school has reason to be proud of our varsity cheerleaders. During the football and basketball season, aiding in such activities as pep meetings, bonfires, and poster-campaigns, they did much to generate school spirit.

Acting as hosts, the cheerleaders conducted a successful and entertaining district cheerleading contest at the War Memorial Arena. Our squad had won the contest the previous year with the cheer, "Scash 'Em." Trophies for the event went to Johnstown Catholic, first place; Westmont, second; and to Central Cambria, third.

Winding up their campaign with four consecutive victories, Ferndale's basketball squad ended with a respectable record of twelve wins and ten losses. Under Coach Richard Rigby, in his second year at the helm, the squad finished in fourth place in the tough Tri-County League with seven wins and five losses. The regular starting five of Wissinger, Povich, Kuhs, Jeroy, and Clawson received strong support from a capable bench. Gander, Garner, Sass, Kesslak, and Miljanovich provided the fast-breaking varsity five with the necessary reserve strength. Offsetting a definite lack of height by teamwork and an aggressive, full-court press, the squad played several outstanding games. Highlights were narrow losses to Portage with sky-scraper Len Chappell and to Johnstown. In a thrilling win over Westmont, our team eliminated the Hilltoppers from contention in the league. Leading Jacket scorers and their point totals were as follows: Wissinger, 341; Povich, 276; Clawson, 182; Jeroy, 175; Garner, 127; and Kuhs, 114.

Ferndale's 1957 track team competed in seven meets, including two triangular, a dual, and four major meets. The Jackets placed second in their triangular meets, in one competing with Windber and Dale, and in the other with Somerset and Dale. They also soundly defeated Dale in a dual meet. Ferndale also competed in the Tri-County, Coaches, Junior Pitt, and District 6 Meets. Larry Scruggs, freshman miler, was outstanding as he placed second in District 6 and then competed in the state finals at University Park. Mr. Hershberger was the coach.

Ten games were played by the baseball squad in the 1957 season. The record revealed only two wins and eight losses. Competing in the tough Tri-County League, the team ended with one win over Conemaugh, 9-6, and losses to Indiana, 13-0, Johnstown Central, 6-5, Franklin, 5-3, and Laurel Valley, 19-4.

In non-league action, our Jackets beat Southmont, 21-8, while losing to Johnstown Catholic, 6-2, and Richland, 18-6.
